Residents in the community congregated at Grant AME Church on Gerrard St. for the 2nd Annual Hip Hop Summit on March 19. Workshops for both youths and adults were ongoing throughout the summit. Facilitated by Nifty and Nevahurd, youths were introduced to the history of Hip Hop, its culture, music mixing and making. A free concert in the evening was held after the workshops, which featured live acts from Brothers in Christ, Royalty Production, Spoken, Nevahurd, Shaddie Swagg and more.

SNAP SNEAKS A PEEK DORIS MCCARTHY

by: Jillinda Greene

Every time I see a photo of Doris McCarthy I am drawn to the character within the image. A fixture in the Beach community all of her life, Doris not only gifted us with her presence, but her artistic talent. A world renowned landscape artist, Doris graduated from Malvern Collegiate in the class of 1926. She devoted some of her time and energy over the years to Malvern in many ways. As a student she helped to edit the Malvern Muse – the school paper. As an adult she was instrumental in creating a memorial book honouring our World War 2 veterans – with both calligraphy and illustrations. Even in her later years she continued to inspire and lead by example. At age 94 she addressed the graduating commencement class at Malvern and her speech drew a standing ovation for its honesty and interest. Doris always kept her ties to the school close at hand. Looking at her photographs I see an all knowing and passionate reflection in her eyes, a confident yet sensitive smile bordered by her lips and dimpled cheeks. Etched character, softly expressing a life and talent well lived and illustrated. Doris passed away November 25, 2010, one hundred years after entering her journey here, in her passing she has left a legacy of experiences and fulfillment with a compliment of outstanding landscapes.
